Back to School Information for Students and Parents

Welcome

Los Alamos Public Schools is proud to announce their Back to School web page (laschools.net) on our new website. Whether you are new to the LAPS district or returning to continue your academic career, our website is packed with useful information.

Think of it as a concierge service for all of your back to school needs, including information about academics and activities.

Click and scroll through our website to find links to our school calendar, each school's home page, registration links and web tools for parents. You will also be able to easily find information about student transportation, Health/ Wellness information and information about Los Alamos Public Schools.

School starts on Thursday, August 17th. Elementary students have a noon dismissal on the 17th and 18th. Be sure to check our district calendars to make sure you don't miss anything!
