

Entas Tanina Williams is from Lil'wat Nation, British Columbia. She is a life long learner and loves to share her learning with others. She is a storyteller, wool weaver, drum maker, carver, and maker of many other beautiful crafts including leather clothing, cedar clothing, cedar work, circle protocol and she is a proud bannok maker.

Please join us on Monday, November 16th to hear Tanina tell the story of Black Bear Family and Grizzly and to learn a traditional Lil'wat Nation Dance.

Presentation begins at 6:00 pm on Monday, November 16th. Sponsored by the Los Alamos Public Schools Native American Parent Advisory Council.
